By the way, a Libertarian (sic) ought not object to UC investments in South Africa. A Libertarian must permit his neighbor many disagreeable activities in the name of liberty.

-- Bill Young

In a free society one will have the right to expect one's unpopular activities will be tolerated.
At the same time, one will have the right to expect one's unpopular criticism of the acts
of one's neighbors will also be tolerated.
However, this is not what we deal with in a criticism of UC investments in South Africa.
The UC is not an eccentric neighbor spending his own wealth according to his desires. The UC is an institution funded by the taxes of millions of Americans and the tuition of hundreds of thousands of students from all across the continent. Such an institution is rightly subject to the pressures which can be brought to bear when using other people's resources in its activities.)

Turkey-Russia. Please win while I still have units on the board!

Turkey-England. I see you had the same idea I had.

Turkey-Germany. I believe your movement surprised everyone.

Turkey-Italy. Sorry.

France-Russia. Well, with England getting his orders messed up in his move, Turkey defecting, Italy waffling, Austria not cooperating, and Germany rising from the dead to aid your cause, it seems resistance was doomed from the start. The game is yours with my blessing.

France-Turkey. Russia's win can be credited to you. I COULD have kept London, taken Berlin from Russia, and taken the Matl this turn, but with you going renegade, what's the use?

THERE IS A RENEWED CALL FOR CONCESSION TO RUSSIA!

Reading of a proposed settlement between Russia & Austria, and fearing this mightily, the Admiralty is forced to (prematurely) open hostilities against an otherwise fine fellow. The desire to obtain parity with the powers of the S's, or course, another factor (greed). There is some wonder about Austria's reasoning process which has led them to ignore for so long a player who might well provide assistance--perhaps this sad state of neglect will soon cease.
